PREFACE

The material for this genealogy was obtained by the compiler during the course of the preparation of "John North of Farmington, Conn:, and His Descendants," (Concord, N.H., The Rumford Press, 1921), and after its publication, from data obtained from numerous interested persons and from various publications. Of the latter, the most important are: "The History of Augusta, Maine," by James W. North; "History of the Related Keyes, North and Cruzen Families," by M. F. Stipes (Jamesport, Mo., 1914, privately printed); "The Cloyd Genealogy"; "In Memoriam - Hugh McAllister North"; numerous county histories of Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, and other States; and various genealogies.

In 1921 the late Dr. Lucian G. North of Tecumseh, Mich., compiled a genealogy of the descendants of Joseph Exner North and of his brother Joshua North, which is included in this work, and for which acknowledgement is gratefully made. Through the interest of the late Hugh McAllister North, Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., an exhaustive search of the family data was made in England and Ireland, the results of which, although inconclusive, are summarized herein. Mrs. Martha Humphreys Maltby of Kansas City, Mo., a descendant of Ann (North) Humphreys, has contributed original data upon her branch of the family, upon the descendants of Elizabeth (North) Evans, and other branches. Further valuable information has been received from Roscoe C. North of Selins Grove, Pa., Herbert A. North of Philadelphia, Miss Grace Brewster of Monkato, Minn., Miss Doris Opperman, Tontogany, O., Mrs. Roy V. Magers, Parkville, Mo., and numerous others. For their interest and helpful cooperation, the compiler wishes to extend his thanks.

INTRODUCTION

Published references to the ancestry of Caleb North state that his first known ancestor was John North, who went from England to Ireland during the Cromwellian Wars about 1650, and had lands granted by the English Crown in Counties West Meath and Kings. It is the family tradition that he was descended from or related to the Norths so distinguished in English history for their literary, political, and religious activities, and of which Lord Frederick North, prime minister under King George III, was probably the most widely, although not the most favorably known, because of his attitude toward the American colonies at the time of the Revolution. .

Recent extensive research undertaken both in England and Ireland, however, has failed to reveal definite proof of a member of the English family who settled in Ireland about 1650. It has been proved that a John North who was listed as a soldier during the Cromwellian Wars was wounded in battle, and returned to England where he died intestate soon after. His estate was administered without reference to relatives,hence it appears improbable that he left widow or child to found an Irish branch of the family. However, this does not preclude the existence of another John North in Ireland at that time.

There is, however, evidence to indicate that a relationship did exist between the famous English North family, and the North family in Ireland from whom Caleb North of Philadelphia is descended.

In the "History of Augusta, Maine," it is told how the Maine branch of the North family have in their possession a cup brought over by the pioneer ancestor John North (first cousin of Caleb) in 1732, bearing the North coat of arms, similar to that of the English Norths.

In 1771 [1] a Roger North came from Ireland to Virginia. His descendants are the proud possessors of Georgian silver bearing the North coat of arms, and of a ring, the seal of which is the North crest. The relationship of this Roger North with the family of Caleb North has not been traced.

The Christian name Roger occurs in the English family as early as 1495, and in nearly every succeeding generation for at least two hundred years. It is also found in nearly every generation of the Irish family until the nineteenth century. The name Dudley North occurs frequently in the English family after the first Dudley, third Baron North (1581 - 1666) who derived the name from his god-father. The name has not been found among the Irish Norths from whom Caleb North was descended. Its absence may therefore indicate that the Irish branch became separated from the main English branch prior to 1581.

John P. Prendergast's "The Cromwellian Settlement of Ireland" contains the following reference to a Dudley North:

> "In January, 1654, the Governors of Carlow, Kilkemy, Clonmel, Wexford, Ross, and Waterford, had orders to arrest and deliver to Captain Tomas Morgan, Dudley North, and John Johnson, English merchants, all wanderers" etc.

These orders referred to the seizure and shipment to the Barbados and English plantations of orphans, widows, and destitutes. The Dudley North here

1/ Roger North's tombstone may still be seen at Staunton, Va., with the inscription: "Roger North, died Oct. 17, 1776, born in the City of Dublin. Arrived in this Colony 1771. A fond father, an affectionate husband, and the sincerest friend." He married Catherine Davis, niece and ward of Bishop Law. His son Philip, born in Ireland, Nov. 14, 1767, married Mar. 19, 1792, Margaret Abney of Augusta County, Va. Their only son John A. North, born Dec. 15, 1794, married in July, 1819, Charlotte Blain. A granddaughter, Martha Caldwell, resides (1927) at Lewisburg, W. Va. Old letters in her possession show that Philip revisited England and Ireland three times to collect money from the North and Law estates. This family too has the tradition of the descent from the English Norths. For further information see also "The Records of Augusta County, Va.".

referred to could not be the famous political economist and Turkey merchant of that name, as the latter was born in 1641. He might be Sir Dudley North, fourth Baron North, who was born in 1615 and succeeded to his father's title in 1666. There is no evidence that he left descendants in Ireland. His brother John has frequently been mentioned as perhaps being the Cromwellian John North, but in "The Lives of the Norths" by a younger brother Roger, John is stated to have married three times and died without issue.

According to a deed dated in February, 1747, Lord Francis North and Guilford (probably the third Lord) owned and later sold land near Newcastle, County Westmeath. The property referred to may be at a place called Guilford, bordering on Newcastle. Guilford is the only essentially English name in the Parish. An old home called Guilford House, still standing although in sad repair, was evidently built as the house of a gentleman. In appearance it is of the pre-Georgia period, and although locally reputed to be 300 years old, does not look that ancient to a layman. If Guilford House was owned by Lord Francis North and Guilford, its proximity to the seat of the Irish Norths at Newcastle may be due to more than coincidence. Yet perusal of crown grants in Newcastle, as shown in the Chancery Lance Proceedings, covering the period from James I to James II, fails to reveal any grant to a North in Newcastle.

Other[1/] members of the North family whose ancestors came more recently to America, are reported to possess diagrams tracing the North ancestry back to the time of the Norman invasion of England when the first North is reputed to have come to England. The name North is relatively uncommon in England, and it does not appear in the Domesday book, this indicating that it did not exist there prior to the Conquest, although the use of surnames did not become general until later.

The name North is still found in Ireland. Many of them are of the same ancestry as Caleb North. During the 18th and 19th centuries, many members of the family emigrated to America, including Caleb North who landed in Philadelphia in 1729. Next to the posterity of John North of Farmington, Conn. (1635), and possibly that of Anthony North of Virginia (1654) of which the compiler has a partial record, his descendants are probably the most numerous of the Norths in the United States.

According to previous authorities, the Cromwellian John North who went to Ireland about 1650, had two sons, Roger who died about 1701, and John. Roger was of Newcastle, County Westmeath, and his will was proved at Antrim. He had seven children: Joseph[1/], married Mary, daughter of Richard Emor (not Ernor as stated in some authorities) of Newcastle and died in 1739; Roger, of Kilbridge Castle, married Mary Wade and died in 1766; Caleb, ancestor of the Pennsylvania Norths of whose male descendants this genealogy is a record; Elizabeth, married Francis Cooper; Catherine; Joshua; and Sarah.

John North, son of John, Sr., married April 24, 1679, according to the "History of Augusta," Hannah Watson of Castle Jordan, West Meath. In the Index to Dublin Marriage Licenses Bonds, however, there is recorded in that year the marriage of John North and Mary Watson, and again in the same year in the register of St. Brides' Church, Dublin, a prerogative grant to John

North and Hannah Watson. So it may be that her name was Mary Hannah or Hannah Mary Watson. They had three children: William, of Lawrence, Kings County, married Anne _____; John, second son, born in West Meath about 1682, came to Maine and was the progenitor of the Norths of that State, for genealogy of which see the "History of Augusta, Maine"; Elias, third son, of Clonfad, married in 1705, Elizabeth, daughter of Torogood.

1/ The history of Mercer Co., Pa., mentions the family of Thoroughgood North b. 1780, who came to America in early 19th century and settled in Mercer Co. Perhaps he was a descendant of the above Irish family. He had a son Samuel, b. 1823, who had children Seth; Nancy, m. J. Meekers; Mary Ann, m. P. Snyder

DESCENDANTS OF CALEB NORTH

1. CALEB NORTH, son of Roger, was born probably in Newcastle, County West Meath, Ireland. Tradition says that he made a runaway marriage with Jane, daughter of Eckerly, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland. Recent search in Ireland, however, has failed to reveal a Lord Lieutenant of that name.

Caleb's oldest son Roger, had been educated for the ministry, but he objected to this career and declared his intention of going to America. To this the father replied: "If you are determined upon that, Roger, we will all go." Accordingly Caleb North and most of his family sailed from Cork in May, 1729, and landed in Philadelphia the 20th of July following. A few years ago the receipt, dated May 1, 1729, for the 38 guineas paid for the passage of the family, 11 in number, was still retained in a branch of the family. Since he and his wife and their 8 children would total only 10 people, the eleventh may have been the husband or wife of one of the children, or a relative or friend of the family.

In 1734 Caleb North bought 69 acres of land from the Penn family at Gilbert Manor, Montgomery County, then Philadelphia County, and this is where he probably lived.

Children:

2. i. Roger, oldest son, b. 1704; d. June 23, 1785.
   ii. Caleb, second son; Stipes say he d. unm.
   iii. Joshua, third son. Said to have d. unm.
3. iv. Joseph, b. 1721; d. Sept, 1810.
   v. Ann, came to America; m. Janson.
   vi. Catherine, m. at Philadelphia, July 10, 1731, James Snowden.
   vii. Elizabeth, m. at Christ Church, Philadelphia, Nov. 30, 1749, George Plymm.
   viii. Sarah. No further record.

2. ROGER[2] NORTH (Caleb[1]), oldest son, was born in Ireland in 1704, and died probably in Montgomery Co., then Philadelphia Co., Pa., June 22, 1785. He was educated for the ministry, but later declared his intention of going to America, whereupon his father and the children sailed for Philadelphia in 1729. Roger's interest in the church apparently was maintained, since the old records of St. James Church at Evansburg in the Perkiomen River region of Montgomery Co., record his name as a vestryman in 1729. Perhaps it was in the life surrounding this church that he met Ann Rambo, daughter of Peter Rambo,[1/] who was a member and laid

1/ There were several Peter Rambos at this time, all descended from Peer Gunnerson Rambo. While it has not been conclusively proved, it seems probable that Peter, the father of Ann, was the son of Peter (Peer Gunnerson or Per Gunnarsson) Rambo and his wife Bretta. The elder Peter was a native of Sweden, perhaps from Rambo, Degersfors socken, Vasterblotten, in the northeast part. He took passage on the second voyage of the "Kalmar Nyckel" in 1640, being rated as a freeman, and came to New Sweden, on the Delaware River, where he is recorded in 1644 as a tobacco planter at Fort Christina (Wilmington). He became a large property holder and an important man in the community, and was Commissioner and Interpreter to the Indians under the government. He was one of the signers of the original deed dated May 14, 1683, wherein the Indians and the original settlers renounced to William Penn all of the claims and demands to the land lying roughly within the present limits of Delaware Co., Pa. He was one of the founders and first vestrymen of the primitive church Gloria Dei at Wiccaco, now Southwark, Philadelphia. He died about Nov. 6, 1698, on which day his will was proved.

Gunner Rambo, eldest son of Peter, was born 1648/9 and died in January, 1724. It is stated that he was buried in the church yard at Gloria Dei. He married Anna, daughter of Peter Larrson Cock. He was an extensive planter. He lived on the west bank of the Delaware, and later in Matson township on the Schuykill in Philadelphia Co. In 1682 he was a member of the Grand Jury and in 1685 of the Assembly.

His second son Peter was born in 1679 and died in 1753. He lived in Providence township. His wife's name is said to have been Magdalin Bauerin. His daughter, Ann, born in 1716, died Feb. 24, 1798, married Roger North. His descendants are eligible to join the Colonial Societies of the United States.

Peter Larrson Cock, the father of Anna, was a native of Sweden, probably from Kipka, as he called the plantation whereon he lived and died by that name. He was born in 1611. He sailed from Stockholm May 3, 1641, on the ship "Charitas" bound for New Sweden, where he landed at Christina (Wilmington). With others he had been accused of killing game in the King's Park, and was sentenced to serve as a soldier in New Sweden. He later received his freedom and settled on the Schuykill as a tobacco planter. He acquired considerable property, including part of the site of the city of Philadelphia which he exchanged for 200 acres on the west side of the Schuykill. He was directly responsible for the quelling of Marcus Jacobson's inciting of the Swedes to sedition against the English. His wife's name was Margaret and they had 11 children, of which Anna, born about 1652, was the third.

out the churchgrounds. Roger North and Ann Rambo were married October 12, 1732/3.

They lived in Providence township at the mouth of Mingo Creek which runs into the Schuykill about 20 miles above Philadelphia. His name appears on the tax lists of the township in 1769, 1774, and 1779-82 inclusive. In 1769 he was assessed on 220 acres at which time he was a miller. In 1780 the value of his assessment was £5,350. His grandson, Gen. Lewis Evans, wrote of him as being a tanner. He is described as a "man of classical education, a Presbyterian, and of great respectability and good property."

Although his son Caleb, and perhaps other sons were born in Chester Co., no evidence has been found that Roger North ever lived in that county.

In 1748 Roger North entered the army and was commissioned a lieutenant in the Provincial service[1] under Col. Edward Jones, for which service his descendants are eligible to join the colonial societies. During the Revolution he was too advanced in years to bear arms, but his loyalty to his adopted country is attested by the enlistment of his eight sons in the conflict, and by his patriotic speech at the Trappe Inn near his home, where public opinion was formed and patriotic sentiments proclaimed. He said[2] that "although disabled himself by age and infirmity to engage in the struggle for human rights, his sons belonged to his country in the day of her need and not to himself, and the liberty of the colonies must and should be defended." He has been accepted by the D.A.R. as a revolutionary patriot because of the speeches he made in the cause.

Roger North died June 3, 1785, and his wife died Feb. 24, 1798. Their wills are on file at Norristown, Pa., and are shown in Appendices B and C. No record of the birth of their children has been found, except a few from records of descendants. Other dates shown may be incorrect, as authorities differ with respect to some.

v. Ann, b. and d. 1767.

4. SAMUEL[3] NORTH (Roger[2], Caleb[1]), oldest son, was born September 8, 1735, probably in Montgomery, then Philadelphia, County, Pa. He was a soldier in the Revolution and is said to have been in the battle of Monmouth. If he is the Samuel North who was a sergeant in the 13th Pa. Regiment, Artillery Artificers, in 1780 1/, he is reported as 40 years of age in that year, which would make the year of his birth 1740. In 1778 he was in the Invalid Regiment, Phila. Co. Militia. 1/

1/ Penna. Archives.

The Nourse genealogy says Samuel North is described in an old record as "a very fine person of a man - as very wild, spending freely his own and his wife's estate, yet not intemperate. His 'wildness' consisted in not working, but entertaining his friends in princely style at his home." The Stipes book says that he married Adams and removed to South Carolina, where he died, and where he was said to have been the first to start a plow in the State. This statement has not been verified.

He removed to Germantown, Pa., where he became President of the Bank of Germantown. Children:(1)George, b. Jan. 13, 1796. (2) Martha, b. Dec. 22, 1798; d. Feb. 12, 1835. (3) Samuel, b. 5. JOHN^{3} NORTH (Roger^{2}, Caleb^{1}) was born October 5, 1743, probably at Montgomery Co., Pa., and died April 15, 1799. He married Nov. 12, 1767, Catherine Borce, "a Scotch heiress", born Mar. 25, 1748, died Mar. 2, 1816. He was a soldier in the Revolution and was said to have been in the battle of Monmouth. His military record can not be given with certainty because of the number of John Norths at that time. His name appears on the Providence township, Philadelphia Co. tax lists of 1769, 1774 (90 acres of land), and 1781 (valuation £1,296).

It was probably after the latter date that he removed to Juniata Co., which was formed from East Cumberland Co. In the latter county he is recorded in the Federal Census of 1790 as head of a family. Another John North recorded there at that time has not been identified. By 1799 John North had removed to Logan, Hocking Co., Ohio, where he died and where his youngest child was born. Family records are from the old bible dated 1793, which belonged to his daughter Abigail and is now in the possession of Beeman North, of Ottawa, Ill.

6. JOSHUA[3] NORTH (Roger[2], Caleb[1]) was born Nov. 3, 1745. He married (1) Feb. 15, 1776, Rebecca, born Dec. 23, 1751, daughter of James and Margaret (Wilson) Cloyd of Pennsylvania (see Cloyd Genealogy); (2) Mary Murray. He removed in 1776 with his brothers William and John from Chester Co. to Juniata Co., Pa., and settled at the mouth of Wildcat Creek near the Juniata River, in Greenwood township, now in Perry Co., where during the Revolution he was taxed. From 1780 to 1782 he served in Capt. David Boal's second battalion, Col. James Purday's regiment of Cumberland Co. Militia. The Federal Census of 1790 records him as head of a family in E. Cumberland Co., from which Juniata and Perry Counties were later set apart. Prior to 1800 he built the county's first tannery in Greenwood township, and in 1800 built another in Millerstown, which he sold in 1816. He and his brothers or sons owned an island long known as North's Island in the Juniata River, near the Old Rope Ferry Dam.

Joshua North died before Oct. 12, 1822, on which date his will was probated at New Bloomfield, Perry Co., where it is on record.[1/] The remains of the old North cemetery near the mouth of Wild Cat Creek, on the William Penn highway, may still be seen.

7. WILLIAM NORTH (^{3}Roger, ^{2}Caleb, ^{1}) was born in 1747 and lived for some time in Providence township, on the tax lists of which his name appears in 1780 (£550) and in 1782 (£372). He is said to have been a soldier in the Revolution and is perhaps the William North listed as a private in Capt. Morris' Co., Pa. Line (Pa. Archives), or William North, lieutenant in Col. Jacob Peterman's Co. Militia, Upper North Providence. After the war he joined his two brothers and two sisters in Juniata Co., Pa., where he acquired land next to that of his brother Joshua in Millerstown, now Greenwood township, Perry Co. His home in Millerstown was later used as a tavern. He and Joshua North were tanners together, and as late as 1815 Joshua's son Caleb was in the business with him. He may be Capt. William North, 2nd Battalion, 6th Co., 1793, as shown in a "list of names of white male citizens 18-45 years of age." This service may refer to the suppression of the "Whiskey Rebellion".

He is said to have married a daughter of Francis and Elizabeth (Kendall) Jordan. She was a sister of Amos Jordan who married Sarah, daughter of Elisha and Sarah (North) Davis. The will of Francis Jordan mentions a daughter Elizabeth North, born 1760, who was perhaps the wife of William North, but descendants think her name was Catherine.

William North died Nov. 20, 1834, as shown by a report of the executors of his estate, Caleb North and John Thompson (son-in-law). The Federal Census of 1790 records him as head of a family in E. Cumberland Co. (from which Juniata and Perry Cos. were later set apart), of two males over 16 years of age, two under 16 years, and three females. No other record of any sons has been found, and descendants know of none. One son may be George North shown on the tax list of Perry Co. in 1820, or Caleb North the executor may be his son, and not the Caleb North who was a son of Joshua North! Again, if there were sons, they may have died in infancy.

8. ROGER^{3} NORTH ($\underline{\text{Roger}}^{2}$, $\underline{\text{Caleb}}^{1}$) was born about 1749. It is probable that he and not his father was the Roger North whose name appears on the East Caln township, Chester Co. tax lists of 1780, 1781, and 1785, when 100, 113, and 113 acres of land respectively were assessed (Pa. Archives). During the Revolution he was a volunteer in the "Chester Light Horse", First Battalion, under Col. John Gardener, and fought in the battle of Monmouth. He piloted troops across the Brandywine, over which he is said to have ferried Gen. Lafayette. He is recorded in the Federal Census of 1790 as head of a family in W. Nantmeal township, Chester Co., of 1 male over 16 years, and 1 female. He married (1) Jan. 4, 1774, Elizabeth, daughter of David and Hannah (Owen) Todd, born in Montgomery Co. Nov. 13, 1757, died Feb. 5, 1803, and buried at Charlestown, Chester Co. Her brother Gen. Levi Todd was the grandfather of Mary Todd, who married Abraham Lincoln. Roger North married (2) Barbara, daughter of Mathias Adam Hagermood, a German, probably of New Jersey. The Pennsylvania legislature granted to "Roger North, a Revolutionary soldier from Chester Co., an annuity of $40 from Jan. 1, 1825." The date of his death is not known.

He had no children by his first marriage. No record of descendants of those by his second marriage.

Children (by second marriage):

i. Thomas.
ii. Harriet.
iii. Eliza, perhaps the Elizabeth North who m. Thomas Power and had dau. who m. Alexander Speer.
iv. Ann.

9. LIEUT. GEORGE[3] NORTH (Roger[2], Caleb[1]), was born in 1751, if the age of 63 years given on his tombstone is correct. He is however spoken of as "my favorite younger brother", by his brother Col. Caleb North, who was born in 1753. This would make the date of birth of George, 1754 or 1755.

During the Revolution George North was a sergeant and later lieutenant in his brother George's 4th Pa. Battalion, and was said to have been in the battle of Monmouth. He married (1) at the 1st Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Jan. 12, 1787, Sarah Evans, daughter of Col. William and Sarah (Smith) Evans; (2) at Halltown, Va., (now W. Va.) Oct. 30, 1794, Eliza, born Keye's Ferry, Va. 1773, daughter of Humphrey and Sarah (Hall) Keyes, and sister of Catherine who married his nephew David Humphreys.

After the war George North removed from Chester Co., Pa. to Keep Tryste Furnace on the Potomac River 1 mile above Harpers Ferry. In 1790 he had a store there. In 1804 he went to a 400 acre farm near Mt. Jefferson, now in West Va.; in 1806 to Charlestown, West Va.; and in 1811 to a farm near Alexandria, Va., where he died Dec. 31, 1814. His grave is near Bailey's Cross Roads, a few miles from Alexandria.

10. COL. CALEB^{3} NORTH (Roger^{2}, Caleb^{1}), was born, according to the family record, in the little village of coventry, Chester County, Pa., July 15, 1753. He was brought up as a boy in the country store of his native village. At the beginning of the Revolution he hired a British deserter to teach him the manual of arms, and on Jan. 5, 1776, he was appointed Captain of "Captain North's Company", raised in Chester County, which was made the 4th company of Col. Anthony Wayne's Battalion, and which subsequently became the 5th Penna. Regiment. He rendered valuable service throughout the war, notably at the battles of Germantown, Monmouth, Brandywine and Paoli, also conducting the noted "Tarleton's Legion" to Philadelphia. After the surrender of Cornwallis in October, 1781, he had charge of the British prisoners on the march from Virginia to Lancaster and York. On Jan. 1, 1783, he retired from active service and resumed business at Coventry. On October 12, 1819, he was chosen High-Sheriff of Philadelphia. He was an original member, on the "Parchment Roll" of the Pa. State Society of the Cincinnati; elected a vice-president in 1820, and president from 1828 until his death. He died at Coventry Nov. 7, 1840, and is buried in a private cemetery on a hillside near the old homestead.

"He left to his brother George his sword and pair of pistols used by a progenitor about 1690 at Boyne Water (Ireland), and a black charger which had borne him at the head of his troops in many hard-fought battles, especially at Monmouth, and concerning which it is said there is an autographed letter of compliment from Gen. Washington."

He married (1) Ann (not Abigail, as in some records) Hockley of Chester Co., Pa.; (2) Lydia Lewes of of Lewes, Del.(for further biography see "Lamb's Biographical Dictionary of the United States"). For service record see "Pennsylvania Archives", Vol. I, Second Series.

By 1790 he had removed to Vincent township, Chester Co., where he is recorded in the Federal Census of that year as head of a family of 1 male over 16 years, 2 under, and 3 females. He inherited the North homestead in Providence from his father but he apparently sold it, for in 1790 he removed to the Juniata Valley where he lived until 1799. He had charge of the ferry at Brandywine Creek, Pa., where he transported troops and was in charge of the mails.

In 1864, when the governor of Ohio called for volunteers in the Civil War, he was one of the first to pick up his rifle, although 75 years of age. APPENDIX A.

There is a marriage recorded at Christ Church, Philadelphia, of Joshua North and Margaret Means, on Dec. 3, 1774. Could he possibly be the same Joshua who later married Rebecca Cloyd? It will be noted that the date 1774 is more than a year prior to Joshua's removal to Juniata Co. Perhaps this was his first wife and she died shortly after marriage.

The name Joshua, and other names occuring among the children and grandchildren of Caleb North have been found so frequently among other Norths of the eighteenth century, that one is lead to believe there must have been another family, perhaps closely related, in which these names also occurred. A few of these instances are given:

"In England in the Cathedral of Gloucester there is a memorial bearing the following inscription: 'In memory of Joshua North, of this city and Philadelphia in North America, and of Rebecca his wife. He died June 9th, 1813, and she died June 21, 1819. Also of Elizabeth North, their eldest daughter who died in infancy.'" In Virginia Magazine, Vol. VIII, p. 405: "John North came from Birmingham, 20 miles away, with his uncle Joshua North. He is the son of Thomas North, who is a brother of John of Pennsylvania. He has two sons, William and John, and a daughter Mary, and is a button maker; he seems an honest and hearty fellow."

There were two Joshua and two John Norths recorded in the Federal Census of 1790 as heads of families in E. Cumberland Co., Pa. Who were the second Joshua and John? Who was the Joshua North mentioned in the New York "Calendar of Land Papers" as petitioning for land grants in Wallingford township in 1766 and 1767, and near Crown Point in 1766? And who were the Joshua and Martha North recorded as early settlers of Albany Co., N.Y., with a child Joshua, baptized Sept. 9, 1758? Could some of the above be descendants of Caleb North Sr.'s brother Joshua, or of Caleb North, Jr.?

At the Trappe Church near where Roger North lived in Montgomery Co., Pa., is the following record: "Children of John and Maria Margretha North; - Maria Margaret, b. Nov. 30, 1757; Catherine, b. Feb. 26, bap. Nov. 30, 1757; Magdalena, b. Oct. 5, bap. Nov. 17, 1751." There is also record of a marriage (not North) which took place in "Richard North's house" in Providence township. See also reference on page 5 to Maria North, a relative of Caleb's, who settled at the mouth of Mingo Creek. So it seems that there were Norths in and around Providence who were not descended from Caleb but who were very likely related to him. In the city of Philadelphia too, many marriages of Norths (see Pa. Archives) are recorded in the late 18th century, which cannot be linked with the North family recorded in this genealogy.

APPENDIX D.

In the name of God, Amen. I, Joshua North of Greenwood Township, Cumberland County, and State of Pennsylvania, being in good health of body and of sound and disposing mind and memory (praised be God for the same) and being desirous to settle my wordly affairs, whilst I have strength and capacity so to do, do make and publish this my last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all former wills by me at any time heretofore made, and first I commit my soul unto the hands of my creator who gave it, and my Body to the earth to be interred in the burying ground of my family on my plantation, at the discretion of my executor hereinafter named, and my will is that one-half of an acre of ground including the present grave yard, shall be measured off and excepted forever from sale, when the rest of my real estate is sold as hereinafter directed, and as to such other wordly estate, wherewith it hath pleased God to entrust me, I dispose of the same as followeth: I will that all my just debts as shall be by me owing at my death together with my funeral expenses and all charges touching the proving of, or otherwise concerning this my will, shall in the first place out of my personal estate and effects be fully paid and satisfied and from and after payment thereof and subject thereunto, then my will is that all the residue of my goods, stocks, chattels, merchandise and household furniture shall be indifferently appraised, and after such appraisement made, that the same shall be sold at publick vandue as soon as convenient to my executor and as soon as the money can be collected, that the same shall be divided into three equal parts, one equal third part thereof, I give and bequeath unto my wife Mary North and the other two-thirds to go towards paying off the legacies herein specified. I also give and bequeath to her my said wife, the interest of one-third part of all the money arising from the sale of my real estate during her life, which one-third part as aforesaid is to be put out in the safest way that may occur to my executor, and the interest paid to her annually, and at her death, the said one-third is to be divided equally, share and share alike, between my three eldest sons, viz. James North and Caleb North and Joshua North. I also give and bequeath to my son James North seventy dollars, to be paid to him one year after my decease or sooner if suitable to my executor. I give and bequeath to my son Caleb North, two hundred and ten dollars to be paid to him one year after my decease or sooner if convenient to my executor. I give and bequeath to my son Joshua North ten dollars to be paid to him one year after my decease, or sooner if convenient to my executor. To my daughter Rebeckah Doty, I give and bequeath twenty dollars to be paid to her one year after my decease which bequests when paid, with what I have already given the children of my first wife, namely Rebeckah North, deceased, I consider to be equal one with the other so far --

To my son Frederick North, I give and bequeath one dollar, to be paid to him one year after my decease -- To my daughter Hannah North, I give and bequeath one hundred dollars to be paid to her one year after my decease. To my son John North I give and bequeath one hundred dollars to be paid to him one year after my decease, or the money secured in some safe hands, till he arrives at the age of twenty-one years, paying him the interest thereof annually, at the discretion of my executor. To my son Hiel North I give and bequeath one hundred dollars, the money likewise to be paid him, one year after my decease or secured in safe hands till he arrives at the age of twenty-one years, paying him the interest annually at the discretion of my executor. To Rodger North, my infant son, I give and bequeath fifty dollars to be disposed of for the most benefit of the said infant, at the discretion of my executor.

And lastly I do hereby nominate, constitute and appoint my son Caleb North executor of this my last will and testament. Empower my said executor to make immediate sale of all my land except the grave yard, as before excepted for the best price that can be obtained for the same, in order to provide for the discharge of my debts and legacies herein contained - And further that after all my debts and legacies are settled, there should remain a surplus of money from the sale of my estate, was aforesaid, I give and bequeath said surplus to my three eldest sons, James North, Caleb North, and Joshua North, to be equally divided amongst them, share and share alike. This my last will and testament written on one-half sheet of paper and signed on both sides, revoking and annulling all former will or wills and confirming the foregoing to all intents and purposes whatever, given under my hand and seal this fifth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen.

Joshua North (SEAL)

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the above named Joshua North, as and for his last will and testament, in the presents of us who at his request and in his presence have subscribed our names as witnesses thereunto.
